My dear Sir Krishna Murti

I was unfortunate in not finding you at home when I called yesterday morning, so I put my business into writing. I hope to leave Bangalore - though it is a hope tempered by much regret - on Dec. 10th. My resignation as you know takes effect from the last day of the vacation (Jan 17th.)

I write to enquire whether the Government would kindly permit me to draw my pay for the vacation in advance, i.e. before I leave India. I would present an ordinary pay bill, together with a certificate from the Principal as to the date and the amount I am entitled to; and if the Comptroller could be instructed to cash it I should be very glad.

I should not make this request were it not that the matter is one of considerable importance to me.

I shall of course be at work during the vacation as all teachers are - marking the papers of the term examinations

I am Yours sincerely

Alex. J. Ineve
